EXCERPT OF RELEVANT TESTIMONY:
Jenkins: Can you state your whereabouts on the evening of October 12, 2024, between 19:00 and 23:00?
Frank Miller: Yes, absolutely. I wrapped up my routine database indexing tasks around 19:45.
Frank Miller: I had an early dinner planned with my brother. I packed my laptop and left the office premises precisely at 20:00.
Jenkins: Did you return to the building or access the company network remotely later that night?
Frank Miller: No, definitely not. I was at dinner at Osteria Morini until 22:30. My phone battery died around 20:30, so I had no network connectivity until I returned home after 23:00.
Jenkins: Did you share your administrative credentials or MFA hardware token with anyone on your team?
Frank Miller: Never. My YubiKey hardware token remained attached to my keychain at all times.
